Changes will be effective when notice of such change is posted at the Site. Please check the Terms and Conditions frequently for updates by checking the date of the “Last Update” at the top of this document. If any term, condition or any change thereto is not acceptable to you, you must discontinue your use of this Site immediately. Your continued use of this Site after any such changes are posted will constitute acceptance of those changes. These Terms and Conditions apply exclusively to your use of this Site and do not alter the terms or conditions of any other agreement you may have with OMI. OMI may, at any time without notice or liability, and for any reason whatsoever, terminate, change, suspend or discontinue any aspect of this Site, including (i) changing the availability of, restricting access to, or imposing limits on any or all features or services on, or links to, the Site; and (ii) removing, adding, modifying or otherwise changing any messages, information, data,

2. Disclaimer

The Site is designed to provide knowledge for information purposes only. OMI makes reasonable efforts to ensure that the Content is accurate at the time it is posted on the Site. However, OMI makes no representation or warranty of any kind regarding the Site or the Content, including without limitation, any representation or warranty regarding the accuracy, reliability, currency, or completeness of the Content. The Content has not been independently audited or verified in its entirety, nor has it been reviewed by any securities exchange.

No information included on the Site shall be deemed incorporated by reference into any of OMI’s regulatory filings, unless expressly indicated in any such filings.

The terms used by OMI to report reserves and resources from its mineral deposits and exploration results are in compliance with Canadian regulations, but may not necessarily meet the reporting requirements of other jurisdictions (e.g. see section 4 “Cautionary Notes to U.S. Persons Regarding Reserve and Resource Estimates” below).

You acknowledge and agree that the Site (including without limitation the Content) is provided on an “AS IS” basis and that any use of or reliance on the Site shall be at your sole risk.

OMI AND ITS AFFILIATES DO NOT MAKE ANY, AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIM ALL, REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, COVENANTS AND CONDITIONS, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, BY OPERATION OF LAW OR OTHERWISE, INCLUDING WITHOUT LIMITATION ANY IMPLIED WARRANTIES AND CONDITIONS OF MERCHANTABILITY, OR FITNESS FOR ANY PARTICULAR PURPOSE, OR NON-INFRINGEMENT, OR ANY IMPLIED REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES ARISING OUT OF COURSE OF PERFORMANCE, COURSE OF DEALING OR USAGE OF TRADE. FOR GREATER CERTAINTY, OMI DOES NOT WARRANT THAT THIS SITE WILL CONTINUE TO OPERATE, OPERATE WITHOUT INTERRUPTIONS OR BE ERROR-FREE.

3. Cautionary Notes Regarding “Forward-looking Statements”

The Site may contain statements that, to the extent that they are not recitations of historical fact, constitute forward-looking statements about OMI, its properties and its business plans. Forward-looking statements may include planned, expected or estimated exploration, drilling expenditures, reserve estimates, budgets, schedules, working interests, valuation, pricing and financial data and other projections, as well as any statements regarding any future plans, objectives or economic performance, or the assumptions underlying any of the foregoing. Information inferred from the interpretation of drilling results and information concerning mineral reserve estimates may also be considered to be forward looking statements, as such information constitutes a prediction of what might be found when and if a mineral project is actually developed. Although OMI believes the expectations expressed in such forward-looking statements are based on reasonable assumptions, such statements are not guarantees of future performance and actual results may differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements. Known and unknown factors and uncertainties could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause the actual results to differ materially from those in forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to: fluctuations in the currency markets (such as the Canadian dollars versus the U.S. dollar or versus the Uruguayan peso); fluctuations in the spot and forward prices of applicable commodities, metals or minerals; changes in national or local government legislation, taxation, controls, regulations and political or economic developments in Canada or Uruguay; operating or technical difficulties in connection with mining or development activities; employee relations; availability and increasing costs associated with exploration and mining inputs and labour; the speculative nature of exploration and development, including the risks of obtaining necessary licenses, approvals and permits; the continued availability of capital and financing. In addition, there are risks and hazards associated with the business of exploration, development and mining, including environmental hazards, industrial accidents, unusual or unexpected formations, pressures, cave-ins, flooding, and the risk of inadequate insurance, or inability to obtain insurance, to cover these risks. There can be no guarantees of future performance and actual results or developments may differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are based on the beliefs, estimates and opinions of the management of OMI on the date the statements are first made. In evaluating forward-looking statements, readers should specifically consider the various factors which could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. OMI disclaims any intention, and assumes no obligation, to update or revise any forward-looking statements to reflect actual results, whether as a result of new information, future events, changes in assumptions or opinions, changes in factors affecting such forward-looking statements or otherwise, except as required pursuant to applicable securities laws.

Forward Looking Information - Assumptions

In making the forward-looking statements in this presentation, OMI has applied several material assumptions, including but not limited to, the assumption that: (1) market fundamentals will result in increased demand and prices for relevant metals, minerals and commodities; (2) all applicable permits, environmental approvals and any other required authorizations will be obtained; and (3) financing is available on reasonable terms. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements include, among others: (1) metal, mineral and commodity price volatility; (2) economic and political events affecting general mineral supply and demand; (3) geological, technical, mining or processing problems; (4) environmental, regulatory or political issues; or (5) the loss of key personnel. For a more comprehensive review of risk factors, please refer to the "Risks and Uncertainties" section of OMI's most recent Management's Discussion & Analysis document which is available on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

4. Cautionary Notes to U.S. Persons Regarding Reserve and Resource Estimates

OMI is required under Canadian law (National Instrument 43-101) to calculate and categorize mineral reserves and resources under the Canadian Institute of Mining, Metallurgy and Petroleum (“CIM”), CIM Standards on Mineral Resources and Reserves Definitions and Guidelines. These guidelines establish definitions for the reporting of exploration information, mineral resources and mineral reserves in Canada. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) has not adopted or approved these definitions for use in the United States.

Canadian law requires disclosure of mineral resources that equate to measured, indicated and inferred resources if such resources are material to the company. While the terms “measured resource”, “indicated resource” and “inferred resource” are recognized and required by Canadian securities laws, the SEC does not recognize them, including under its Industry Guide 7. Under U.S. standards, mineralization may not be classified as a “reserve” unless the determination has been made that the mineralization could be economically and legally produced or extracted at the time the reserve determination is made. U.S. persons are cautioned not to assume that all or any part of measured or indicated resources will ever be converted into reserves. Further, “inferred resources” have a great amount of uncertainty as to their existence and as to whether they can be mined legally or economically. It cannot be assumed that all or any part of the “inferred resources” will ever be upgraded to a higher category. Therefore, U.S. persons are also cautioned not to assume that all or any part of the inferred resources exist, or that they can be mined legally or economically.

Accordingly, information concerning descriptions of mineralization, resources and reserves contained herein, and in information filed by OMI on SEDAR (www.sedar.com), may not be comparable to information made public by U.S. companies subject only to the reporting and disclosure requirements of the SEC.
